Unity in Community Speakers

Purpose and Reality ~ Process and Structure
~ Co-operation through communication creates unity, relationships creates leadership.

Craig Garland

Craig is recently elected representative for the seat of Braddon in the Tasmanian parliament known for his dedicated advocacy for the communities of Tasmania.

I will be talking about the value of independents in a party dominated landscape and my journey as an independent, highlighting the challenges and background.

Tim Dwyer

Tim has been working with the 1901 commonwealth Constitution for 30 years, educating those who are open and helping people know their standing.

I will present on understanding the difference between Corporate state and the lawful constitutional State.

Darren Bergwerf

I'll be speaking about leaving the matrix behind and creating our own new reality under self governance and Natural Lore.

Marcel Caldow

Marcel has a long and successful history and background in Commercial Contract Law. On the Private journey for the past 20 years, and in earnest since 2019. Operating under a PMA and Private Trusts for the past six years, and I now help people set these up for themselves and their communities.

He is speaking on Victoria and the Victorian people since March 2021 until now.

Michael Nibbs

Michael started his journey due to local council not taking responsibility for his driveway entrance leading to a long study of law.

Michael will be speaking on the history from 1421 till today while including the various changes made through acts, agreements and declarations.

Gatty Burnett

I am a child safety advocate with over a decade of working in human services deliverables. I have experience with State and Federal funded community projects and map information ecosystems and the whole of government builds across portfolios.

I'll be speaking on the Value Transfer System and WOG Digital Transformation in train.

Nairn Walker

Nairn has spent the last 30 years working around Australia and New Zealand to increase capacity at the individual, organisational and community level to harness the resource and capacity that can often go unnoticed when patterns of interpersonal dynamics aren't recognised.

Outlining some of the patterns of narcissism that we currently see play out from locals in their lounge-room to the world stage, she will give us a map from the drama cycle to empowerment.

Dan Atkins

Dan Atkins is a co-creator of Sacred Earth University whose mission is to imbibe the best of the ancient cultural and natural wisdom with best available technologies and practices. Dan previously spent 20 years advising business, government and communities across Australia and Globally on sustainability management and policy.

Topic I will discuss "can equity be a pathway to unity?"

Cush Allison

Cush has been presenting to governments regional sustainability proposals for the last 25 years both in WA and Tasmania. Through this time he has created a vast network of creative, critical thinking men and women. In November 2018 he was elected to Latrobe Council while also standing for mayor.

I will be speaking on local government history, current situation and the future plans for LG.

Time for people and ye as the individual to become accountable and take responsibility for ye's ones actions.
